About This Content

This pack includes:

- Unique armored vehicle on hovers "DeLirium TMS";
- Weapons - Two plasma emitters "Synthesis" (rare);
- Unique hovers Icarus IV;
- Unique hero portrait: "Lloyd";
- Cabin: "Quantum" (epic);
- Unique paint cans: Red Moon, White Sun;
- 4200 in-game coins;
- Increases the maximum number of parts used to 60.

After purchase and return to garage the game will offer you to automatically create new vehicle. You can also do this later - open blueprints menu, pick the vehicle and press "Load".

Purchasing a pack gives the player early access to some structural faction parts. These parts will become available immediately upon purchase and are not re-issued once the corresponding reputation level is reached. For some parts you can only have one set of them on the account. When purchasing multiple packs with same parts they do not stack!

Coins - is an in-game currency, which is used to buy vehicle parts from other users in the market and to pay the rent for the workbench to produce new parts. Note! If you purchase several packs, coins included in them stack!

Ohhh man. I really do have a spot for puzzle games like these.

Last Lumines game I played was Lumines Live for the XBOX 360, and while I didn't play it as much as I did for this one?

Daaamn what a great concept for a puzzle game.

My thought still stands too. Catchy music, good mechanics, challenging levels.. What else could I think of in a great game like this?. Same as the game, just more levels. It's pretty fun, but you may want to get it on sale.. It's actually a really nice game. I had some troubles with the graphics first, because...while I like old school 3D graphics, some of the enemies looked a little bit strange. But once I overcame this, I had a lot of fun playing this game. If you like old CRPG, this is for you.

The GUI is something to get used to and even if you do, there are still some annoyances left that will bother you throughout the game, but even Skyrim has those, so...

The graphics are, as said, old school 3D. Personally, I like this. But even if you don't, I bet that you won't notice it after playing it for a while.

The story is fun and the character interaction is too. However, it's never over the top. It's always likeable.

Don't get fooled by the first impression...you will feel like as if you are back in 2000 and are playing the latest and greatest game.. i like this game but now every time i go to load it the screen does black could i get help on how to fix this

. Waste of money. It is just another MMO RPG. Very short game, with beautiful graphics. There are no instructions on how to play this game, so I recommend using the guide. Also, remember to use Shift + Arrow to move faster.

There is nothing bad in this game but, nothing exciting neither.

Just for fans of any hidden-object game.

Story line is boring typical and doesn't glue very well the different scenarios.

Graphics are ok. Puzzle solutions aren't always logical.

I miss some map to jump from one to other scenario.

Sometimes to select one object of the hidden list is a mess, the hotspot area seems very narrow.. I finally have the truly comfy city builder I've always wanted. If you're looking for a table tennis or a golf simulation, this one is not recommended. Both games are far from the real thing.. Holy rat droppings on a stick batman,

Please do not buy this game at £14.99, please take into account that i do not own VR so i cannot comment on the gameplay using it, however the gameplay without VR is unequivocally terrible, there is a white haze that covers the screen regardless of any changes made to the settings, and the user friendly side of things is less than friendly.

Onto the actual gameplay, the movement is clunky at best and the 'enemies' just sort of congregate together in a zombie 'esque' manner, there doesn't seem to be very much depth to the game objectives and the use of a blade may as well be using a butter knife.

I love giving different games a chance and usually do reviews of them on my YouTube channel however this one hasn't even made the cutting room floor as it was that bad i didn't even record 1 second of it, Please heed my words and do not buy this game yet. I do however hope that the developers make some much needed changes in the future.

Over and Out. Beautiful game, weather effects incredible, still needs work with sound location

What I really like is that in place of a lot of dinosaurs is the really interesting AI that creates a far more interesting setting, if this game continues to go down the path of incredible AI as its core strength this game will be unique and hell of a lot of fun to play

Still very early but going places

. This was £1.59 in the UK when I bought this and after 20 minutes floating around and inside the include fractals, I like it.

I used to marvel at fractals on my old Amiga so to see them up close in real time is entertaining. It's nice not having to wait over night to find a black screen render. The Amiga was great but my watch is 1000 times more powerful today!

I think I'd like finer controls as sometimes the fractals just expand so quick they engulf you. This triggers my reflex to hold my breath, but I haven't been submerged in a fractal long enough to pass out yet.

I haven't tried the code editor yet but I am sure I will find a use for it on youtube when I look. I also hope the developer doesn't abandon the app now it's released.
